CAHSAH's Home Care Aide Organization Certification Program allows home care aide organizations or components of home care organizations which provide home care aide services to submit evidence that they meet CAHSAH's Minimum Standards for Home Care Aide Organizations.

CAHSAH Home Care Aide Organization Certification indicates that a Home Care Aide organization has submitted documentation to CAHSAH that demonstrates the Home Care Aide Organization has met or satisfied the Minimum Standards with respect to the conduct of its business. These Minimum Standards are not intended to be a comprehensive list of every insurance coverage, standard or indicator of compliance, quality or safety a home care aide organization should have in place. CAHSAH recommends that agencies seek the advice of competent legal or human resources professionals when establishing or revising agency practices. CAHSAH does not assess the quality, background, knowledge and skills of the individuals providing services for the organization or the quality of services provided by the CAHSAH certified Home Care Aide Organization. CAHSAH does not independently verify the accuracy of the documentation or materials submitted to it by a Home Care Aide Organization in connection with the application for certification.
